

TWO NEW SCHOOLS PLANNED

Two schools, instead of one, may be built in North Wilmington near where Woburn Street crosses Route 93.

This was the decision of a group of town officials, meeting last Thursday in the High School, at the time of the regular Permanent Building Committee meeting. The decision stemmed directly from the decision of the Campanelli Brothers of Quincy to build about 180 new homes, in the vicinity of Park Street.

The various officials made no bones about their attitude. They felt the town was approaching a crisis, with 180 homes to be built. Among those present were the Chairman of Selectmen and Finance Committee, and of the Planning Board, School Superintendent Harold Shea and Eddie Page of the School Committee.

Shea told the group that he had been planning to recommend a 14 or 15 room school, to be ready for September of 1964, near the corner of Woburn and High Streets. This was to be part of a greater schedule which would see a similar school built for September 1956 on Shawsheen Avenue, and a third school, a couple of years later, closer to Main Street, in Shawsheen Avenue area.

Because of the new homes planned Shea felt that there would have to be a 24 or 26 room school on Woburn Street.

As a result of the discussions concerning the threatened influx the Chairman of the Permanent Building Committee advised that the town could either plan a 14 or 15 room school, capable of being enlarged at a later date, or plan two schools.

To plan a school capable of being enlarged, he believed, would cost the town about 10% over the usual costs.

Erwin Hanke, Chairman of the Permanent Building Committee, told the group that there was no possibility of locating one of the schools adjacent to the Barrows well field, near Hathaway Acres. The area had been subjected to 'perculation tests' to determine if water would disappear into the ground, he said and, 'The water just looked back at us - the ground would not absorb it at all!'

Two Schools, then, was the decision of the group.

Shea told the group that he believed one school should be on each side of Route 93. This was accepted as basic thinking by the group.

Page added the thought that the Permanent Building Committee should have assistance, in the form of a Building Site Sub Committee. This, too, was accepted as a good suggestion, and the Chairman of the Selectmen agreed he would discuss making such an appointment with other members of his board.

GAME WAS ONE FOR THE BOOKS

Wilmington 30, Dracut 20

In a nose to nose battle, such as has not been seen on the Wilmington playing fields for many a year the Wilmington High School eleven came from behind in the last quarter of last Saturday's game to defeat Dracut 30 to 20.

It was a game which established Jackie Bowen as one of Wilmington's all time greats, and put him in second place, in Eastern Mass., for scoring, this year.

The game also showed the mettle of many other players in the Wilmington squad, with Jimmy Gillis doing outstanding defensive playing and Frank Perdicaro, overshadowed by Bowen, as a great offensive player.

Allard, as a Quarterback, called a very good game.

The game was marked by fouls on the part of a Dracut player, fouls which penalized Dracut for 30 yards, and which sparked the Wilmington team into the best game ever played, at least in recent years, by players wearing the blue and white of Wilmington.

The game opened with Wilmington trying some decoy tactics, tactics which did not pay off. Bowen was kept in the background, with QB Allard and FB Perdicaro doing the heavy work. Both made first downs but the ball was intercepted, with Dracut's Pointexter then making several first downs, until stopped by Farrell, Fuller, Gillis and Bevilacqua. The first quarter ended scoreless.

In the second quarter Wilmington's team seemed to lose spirit. Dracut took over the ball on the 35 yard line, and Dracut's Carpenter scored on a long run, with a pass to Gas completing the conversion.

WINNER OF 6 STATE & REGIONAL AWARDS

A SAD RECORD

Next Week the town of Wilmington will no longer be under the ministrations of the Town Manager who has "guided" its destiny for the past three years.

Behind him he leaves a sad record on errors and slipshod management. It is practically impossible to tabulate all the things he has left undone, for the list is a long one.

Wilmington, during these past three years should have been preparing its budget for the coming increases in school costs. Instead money was wasted on foolish projects, such as digging up curbstones and replacing them with others, and that thing on Ballardvale Street, where the entire Planning Board rose up in arms, and our Town Manager cited as one of the reasons the fact that he had water in his (own) cellar.

Wilmington has been treated to massive propaganda about how our past Town Manager brought in "industry". The propaganda came from the local throwaways and from an out-of-town daily that can't even get a local correspondent.

The majority, if not all of the cases of "industry" were firms that located here because of reasons of their own, and when local influences were involved, no credit was ever given to persons who rightfully should have been credited.

"Industries" was, in the jargon of the Town Manager and his clique, any firm, whether a sales organization or anything else.

Some of the people who deserve credit, and never have received it include the Middlesex County National Bank, former Planning Board Chairman Raymond Fitzmaurice, and Cosmo Caterino, of Waltham Door & Window.

And as far as our former Town Manager deserving credit: The Town Crier has looked, and found not one instance.

There is something pathological about the whole set up.

CHASING AROUND HIMSELF

There is something comical about the appointment of the Town Accountant as Acting Town Manager, by our departing TM.

The Town Accountant is the man who is appointed by the Selectmen to keep a watch on the TM and other officials, to make sure that the money is spent as it was appropriated.

Our Town Accountant enjoys the confidence of our Selectmen.

By making him also Acting Town Manager he now has the job of chasing himself, to see that

WILMINGTON'S MOST FABULOUS OPERATION

Wilmington has the wonder of Avco, and in that plant many of the things of the future are now on drawing boards. The people of this town can hardly turn on the TV or pick up a magazine without being reminded of the wonders of that plant.

Not so well known, but wonderful in its own way is Photon, which is delving into things beyond the comprehension of the man in the street.

Better known, but almost entirely unappreciated are the Charles River Breeding Laboratories, in North Wilmington, familiarly known to most of Wilmington's people as the "Rat Farm".

The place, in the past few years, has become fabulous.

Animals are born, live and die in absolutely sterile and automated conditions. Not a germ, not a microbe, touches them, and in this condition they are shipped around the world, arriving at their destination in the same sterile condition in which they lived in Wilmington.

Two Japanese gentlemen were in town last week, and saw as much as is possible to see of the place.

But what they saw was nothing - for in the next few years the Charles River Laboratories will have sterile areas as large as two story buildings.

And the nearest place to Wilmington where such a condition may be found happens to be the moon.

A TWO INCH WATER MAIN

The Board of Water Commissioners are heading into a very interesting situation - one which will tell whether or not they can force an individual to dig up a water main and replace it with another.

They have two such situations on the books right now. One is with A. P. Rounds of Stoneham in the Hathaway Acres development, and the other is on Bond Street, off Shawsheen Ave.

In the first place let it be recorded that Wilmington's Water Commissioners are among the best. Industrious and careful, the board would never get caught in, for instance, a Betterment situation such as is now the case with Wilmington's streets. The Water Commissioners pay at-

TOWN NOTES

Jackie

It would be easy to trip into a lot of superlatives, in talking about Jackie Bowen, Left Half Back of this year's football team. Some writers, for instance, would want to invent a new nickname for him.

Jackie has been Jackie ever since he was a small boy, and he will probably remain Jackie until he is old and gray. His Christian name, of course is John, like that of his father, and he is the grandson of the Mrs Mysherrall who once had a small variety store where the Silver Lake Pharmacy is today, so his Wilmington roots go back for over a half a century.

A Wilmington High School Senior, he is preparing for college. He has good marks, but, he admits, they are not as good as they might be.

Jackie first came to the public eye last year, as a hard running back in the football team. This year, of course, he is superlative, the second best scorer in the state.

In other towns such a mark might be the result of a deliberate effort on the part of the coach to 'build up' a favorite star - but not in Wilmington.

Jackie is the best back that Coach Fred Bellissimo has ever had, but the coach is doing nothing towards making him an 'all time' high man in scoring.

If Fred had such an inclination he would not have put in all the substitutes, during the games with Burlington and Billerica. He would have let Jackie stay in, and run the score to something like 80 to 0.

Jackies honors in the football world are honestly come by.

Chelmsford & Lynnfield

The two outstanding games still to be played by the Wilmington team are against Chelmsford, this Saturday, (in Chelmsford) and against Lynnfield, here, on Nov. 10th.

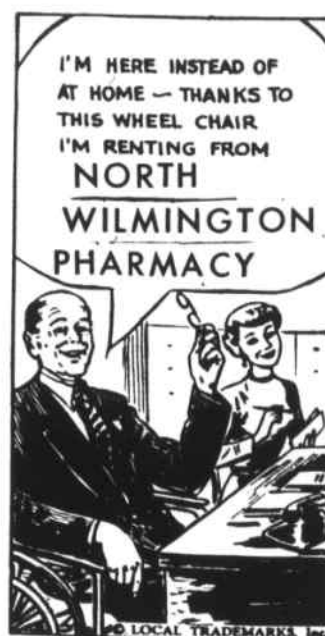

We don't believe that Wilmington has ever beaten Chelmsford. Perhaps we are wrong - but that's the way we recall it.

Last year, as all will remember, it was Wilmington that put the Indian Sign on the triumphant Lynnfield team, and it is to be hazarded that Lynnfield will be burning for revenge, on Nov. 10th.

Both should be games well worth watching.

tention to their business.

A P Rounds, who is the principal contestant, is the gentleman who developed Hathaway Acres, starting back about 1948. He has a fine record, and an eminently fair sense of justice. He is also a man who will not allow himself to be pushed into a corner by anything he considers to be coercion.

A two word description of him would be to call him Caleb Steele - an old, hard-bitten but honest Yankee.

Rounds has a new extension to Hathaway Acres under development. He is to install watermain according to the Water Commissioners directions. On that point there is no argument.

But the Water Commissioners also want him to dig up a short section of water main on Garson Avenue, about 600 feet long, maybe less, a main of 2 inch pipe.

Rounds laid that main years ago under the direction of the Commissioners. It has since been accepted by the town, some years past.

He has been told that if he doesn't replace the main he will not be given water service in the new development.

Having been accepted by the town, Rounds maintains that the water main is now the town's responsibility.

And there they stand, not glaring at each other, but not exchanging love smiles either. It (cont. Pg. 7)

The D. F. Munroe Company, paper merchants, became Wilmington's newest firm, during the past weekend.

Located at 351 Middlesex Avenue, in a new building recently completed by Cosmo Caterino, of the Waltham Door and Window Company, the D F Munroe Company has a history of over 70 years in the retail paper business.

It has come to Wilmington as a result of the efforts of Mr Caterino and his associate, Mr Stoddard. President of the firm is John F. Blackman of Belmont, and associated with him are his three sons, Jack, David F., and A. Peter. A family organization, Mr Blackman is the second to bear his name as president, his father having been the founder of the firm.

During the days of World War 1 the company had its offices on Congress Street, in Boston, and its warehouse in Somerville, and although the office did move, the Somerville warehouse was in use until 1954, when the firm acquired property on Rutherford Avenue, in Charlestown.

On Friday the 13th of July, this year, a fire destroyed the Charlestown warehouse, and it was shortly thereafter that the firm was visited by Mr Stoddard, who was the person who 'sold' the Munroe paper people on the idea of moving to Wilmington.

The move took place during the past weekend. The firm had deliberately allowed their inventory to get to a low point, but even then it took 60 trailer trucks to bring out the merchandise, and the office furniture came in another 5 trucks.

The firm was doing business in their new building Monday morning, and, receiving good wishes of Wilmington firms, people, and from their business associates.

'We are very happy that we are to become a part of the Wilmington business community' President J F Blackman told the Town Crier.

We bought our new home because we are well satisfied as to the economic advantages of this area. We have over 40% greater warehouse facilities than we enjoyed in our last location, and we hope to be a 'good neighbor' to the other firms and to the people of Wilmington.

HIGH SCHOOL HOST TODAY TO MATH LEAGUE

Wilmington High School is to be host today to students from eleven schools, the Western Division of the Massachusetts Mathematics League.

The league is similar to those in which the schools compete in football, baseball, and other sports only the competition is to be in a studies subject, rather than an athletic one.

There will be eight meetings of the league, in the coming season. Members of the League are: Acton-Boxboro, Bedford, Burlington, Chelmsford, Concord - Carlisle, Lincoln-Sudbury, Marnard, Wakefield, Wayland, Weston and Wilmington.

Francis P Kelley, head of the Mathematics Department of Wilmington High School has a team of 10 students to represent their school. Seniors include John Boitz, one of the best students in mathematics in Wilmington High School, Kathleen Harrington, David Dayton and Geraldine McCue. The Juniors are James Justice, Theresa Baldwin, Norman Norton, and Janice Baldwin. Paul Bannister is the only Sophomore, and Richard Shurtleff the only Freshman.

Competition to attain one of the 10 places on the team is intense among the school's students. The highest scoring competitor on the squad is selected to return for the following contest, but the other nine positions are to be open, with the stipulation that no more than four students are to be chosen from the same class, in compliance with League rules.

A total of 30 or 31 Math teachers from the various schools are expected to be present at the time of the contest, today.

SURPRISE VISIT

Robert Blaisdell of Conway Arkansas, son of Mr and Mrs F L Blaisdell of Main Street, was home for a surprise visit, during the past weekend.

LETTER

OWED TO A CRY-BABY

He said: "I'm leaving this town. I can't stick around. Things are too tough. They're calling my bluff". Then for an excuse, he said: "I'll try and accuse, but what the deuce, tho this theory is loose, the town is a goose, and just for a ruse, I'll be obtuse and blame my papoose".

When it came to threats and anonymous calls he had plenty of time to call guys and dolls. He could call Mrs Drew who darn right well knew that she had a threat, too. Her answer to them: "What a gall! But to the police I'll not bawl. I just bet people forget that I vote as my conscience will let, I will not be intimidated."

One time in Town Hall, everyone had a ball -- some workers accused of graft. The answer was simple: "Are you daft?" And that was the end of it all.

Every time a candidate runs for office in this state, someone full of hate phones him to state: "We don't appreciate your views and slate". Thank god a few of them have the guts to state: "I can't abide a jackal and a coward who has to hide and berate. Elections will decide the fate of those who rate."

This Town is Small, but wait and see, how big Haverhill will be. You must agree, it is a city. For every crackpot there'll be three. For every service, there's a fee. When things go right there will be glee. When things go wrong there is no mercy. We will watch and wait and see, just how long the press will be free of statements from this crybaby. Oh Gee, the thought occurred to me, he'll take his son on his knee and say "I had to flee. Don't you see that Wilmington was not my cup of tea?"

MCNB PRESIDENT NOTES MIDDLESEX COUNTY GROWTH

A get acquainted dinner meeting was held under the auspices of the Middlesex County National Bank at Tewksbury, October 8, in connection with the recent opening of its 19th Branch Office.

Middlesex County National Bank vice president E. H. Tellier introduced Oliver T. Bergstrom, president of the bank, as well as other bank executives present.

After warm words of welcome, Mr. Bergstrom said: "Middlesex County National Bank is entering its Second Century of service to our neighbors in Middlesex County. The bank was organized in 1853 and chartered as a National Bank in 1864. And today, a population of over one million is served by our 19 offices in 15 communities. The immediate concern of your bank is the economic and social well being of its neighbors. We have become the largest National Bank in Middlesex County because of your encouragement and patronage. One factor that has contributed much to our success is the fact that our bank is a friendly bank. Our offices are staffed by your neighbors, with a sympathetic understanding of community problems. We are here to stay... and we bring the Middlesex County National Bank resources to help encourage the continued healthy growth of the Tewksbury area."

STATE TO TAKE OVER THE LICENSING OF DAY NURSERIES

The Wilmington Board of Health has been notified that the Massachusetts Department of Public Health is going to take over the licensing of Day Nurseries, except possibly in towns and cities where there is a full time Public Health Officer.

State wide minimums for the Day Nurseries are to be promulgated. The Wilmington Board of Health, Monday night, believed that this town will not be affected, because it has a Public Health Officer, Mr. Romano, and because its Day Nursery regulations are in excess of those planned by the State.

TB X-RAY CLINICS HELD IN LOCAL PLANTS

The Middlesex TB and Health Association, last week, held clinics for the detection of tuberculosis in the J W Greer Company, Sweetheart Plastics and National Poly. The organization, the Wilmington Board of Health was told Monday night, hopes to have a clinic in Avco next spring.

The Health Board also expressed hopes on having a clinic for Wilmington residents about the same time.

HAROLD WOODMAN'S MOVING TO ARIZONA

After having been residents of Wilmington for 36 years, Mr and Mrs Harold E Woodman of Brentwood Avenue are moving to Scottsdale Arizona, where their son Karl is a teacher.

The Woodmans came to Wilmington from Nova Scotia. He was an employee of the New York Central Railroad until his retirement recently.

DR DAVIS ATTENDING CONGRESS OF OPTOMETRY

Dr Gerald Davis, Wilmington Optometrist, with offices at 418 Main Street, is attending a 3 day Post-Graduate course on Vision, sponsored by the Northeast Congress of Optometry.

Among the lecturers at this years Congress are: Dr Gertrude Justison, noted Maryland educator, Dr. Bruce Woff, Vision Consultant to the Cincinnati Reds baseball team, Dr. Lincoln Palmer of the Mass. College of Optometry, and Dr. A M Skeffington, Mass. Director of Education for the Extension Program.

FLU VACCINE IN SHORT SUPPLY

There is to be no program of inoculating key town employees against Influenza, this winter.

Last year all key employees, including teachers were so inoculated, with the Wilmington Civil Defense supplying the vaccine.

This year, Health Officer Romano told the Board of Health, he has tried to get the vaccine from three different pharmacy supply houses, but without success. All vaccine is being channeled to physicians, Romano was told.

ON CARIBBEAN CRUISE

Seven young men of Wilmington left this week for a cruise to Bermuda, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Rocco Yentile, of the Wilmington Water Department, his brother Vincent, James Palmer and James Cuoco of the Wilmington Police Department, Arthur V Lynch Jr., Robert L McHugh and his brother Richard, of the MDC Police are in the party, which expects to be gone for about two weeks.

LEGION TURKEY WHIST

Wilmington Post 136, American Legion, will hold its annual Turkey Whist on Nov. 5th. The annual party is for the post's Welfare Fund, which annually provides baskets both at Thanksgiving and at Christmas for the needy families of the town.

It is a worthwhile cause, and donations will be accepted, both for the whist party, and to help fill the baskets. Anyone who can donate may call either Victor Okolo, 8 3538, or Joseph Bradley, 8 3682.

Tickets are to be mailed shortly to all local members, and the committee will appreciate a speedy response.

ONE FOR THE BOOKS

(From Front Pg)

For the first time in 15 games the opposing team was ahead.Jimmy Gillis and Jackie Bowen were all that seemed to hold the team together, for a few minutes.
The Wilmington team began to revive its spirits when Bowen scored in a 40 yard run around left end.
Ballou and Gray opened a hole for Bowen, for the extra points.Shortly thereafter Dracut's Bet-tencourt went 60 yards for a touchdown, but Fairfield stopped the try for extra points. The score was Dracut 14, Wilmington 8.The fourth quarter was the real turning point. Ritchie kicked, Hall recovered a Dracut fumble, and fine runs by Perdicaro, McLaughlin and Bowen brought the ball to the one yard line, where Allard scored on a Quarterback sneak.
Wilmington was ahead, 24 to 20, and the stands were jumping, as the fans screamed.Dracut was unable to move the ball, with the fine defensive play of Gillis and Cotter, as the game went into the last minutes of the game. Dracut was forced to punt.
With 4 minutes and 50 seconds remaining to play, Wilmington gotJackie Bowen, in a wide sweep around left end, in the final quarter of the game with Dracut. Coming up to assist him are Dave Fuller (45) and Dave Babine (14).The second half saw Dracut's fouls increasing, and the Wilmington boys began to resent the actions, as did the Wilmington fans.
The line stiffened. Tackles by Fuller, Gillis and Bevilacqua forced Dracut to punt. After Perdicaro and Bowen had made some good runs Wilmington in its own turn was unable to advance, and the ball passed to Dracut. In the next play Poindexter made a 45 yard run for a touchdown. Gillis stopped the attempt for extra points.Babine ran the ball back 40 yards on the kickoff, to the 40 yard line, and, after a few carries, Bowen punched through the line for a ten yard carry across the goal, and also scored on the points after.the ball, deep in its own territory.
Perdicaro and McLaughlin carried the ball to near the center of the field, Allard gained a good distance on a Quarterback Sneak, and the ball was on the 10 yard line.In the greatest play of his career Bowen went around right end to score. Fine blocking by Farrell and Babine took out many of the enemy players, but after they were out of the way Bowen still had three men to face.He took care of them one, two, three, with straight-arms, and went over the line for the final touchdown.The points after failed, but the Wilmington fans were deliriously happy. They didn't care!AFTER THE GAME THE PARTY:- Every Saturday night now sees a party at one of the younger sets' home, for the boys in the football team and the girls in the cheerleader squad. Last Saturday it was at the home of Barbara Burnham, on Birchwood Road. Talking to the hostess are Jackie Bowen and (left) Frankie McLaughlin.

WILMINGTON TIGERS IS NEW FOOTBALL TEAM

A new football team, for boys in the 9 to 12 age bracket, is the Wil-Wilmington Tigers. The manager is John Connolly of Thurston Ave.
and the coaches are Peter Pappas and Bill Lane.The team battled a highly favored Winchester team to a scoreless tie last Saturday.The players are Louie Maglio, qb, Don Razez fb, Bobby McKenny fb,
Bobby Drugan lg, Billy Pickowicz
rg, Bobby Clark rt, Bill Gustus lt, Joe Woods rhb, Terry McKenny
lhb, Mike O'Reilly c, Jackie Irwin

re, and Stanley Clark, le.The assistant coaches are Chuck Clark and Billy Rice.

MIKE WEINBERG IS PRESIDENT OF SKATING CLUB

Mike Weinberg (Young Mike) of Burlington Avenue was elected the president of the Wilmington Skating Club, in a Board of Directors meeting Tuesday night.A well known sportsman and athlete, Weinberg is filling the same position his father did several years ago. He has been in Speed Skating from his early youth, and a few years ago held the World
Title, Junior Division, for Barrel Jumping.Weinberg replaces Jay Tighe, who had to resign because of the pressure of business.Weinberg and the members of the Skating Club are now preparing for the Eastern Seaboard Championships, to be held in Wilmington on December 29th and 30th.

MUSHROOMS AND OTHER FUNGI

Imagine arriving at a place (say New England) without any knowledge of apples, pears, quinces, oranges or grapefruit, and imagine having to learn of those fruit only through tomes that describe every kind of fruit, in minute detail, but only using incomprehensible Latin terms.

Imagine getting some volumes to study, because you had been told how nice it is to eat apples, pears, oranges, etc. Imagine too, that your friends warned you never to eat a Quince, for it is a deadly poison, and further that the grapefruit is not to be confused with the orange, and neither of these with olives, ripe or green.

Studying in musty tomes to find the differences would be a heart breaking job, under those circumstances.

Such is the fate of those people in our United States who try to find out about mushrooms.

Everyone is warned against poisonous mushrooms, but the volumes that describe say, the Amanita Phalloides do so in a manner as to discourage study.

The Wilmington Public Library has finally acquired a volume that tells the story in pictures, excellent color photographs, by a Dutchman named G. D. Swanenburg De Veye, and written by another Dutchman named H. Kleijn.

Translated from their native language, some of the terms are not those used in New England, but it is the first such book, to describe these delectable morsels, that has ever come to the attention of this paper.

Mycologists please take note.

by mail, relative to diseases of the heart and lungs.

It is part of a study being conducted in 244 counties of the U.S. relative to the likelihood of certain diseases increasing or decreasing, when compared to the same diseases back in their former homes.

32,000 questionnaires have been mailed out, and all information received is to be confidential.

Jeanne

Jeanne Ashworth, United States Speed Skating Champion, has spent the summer on bicycle, to increase the strength of her leg muscles. Currently she is spending a few weeks at Lake Placid, and, according to her friends, was 'never' in as fine physical condition as she is right now!

Mass 65

The new health insurance policy called Mass 65, now on sale, had for the first purchaser in Wilmington Mrs Bert Livingston.

For many years a resident of Wilmington, she came back to the Bedell Agency, where she bought their first policy sold.

Cecil's Party

There were about 150 persons present, Tuesday night, at the farewell party for our departing Town Manager. Four of the five Selectmen were present, and the Chairman of the Planning Board but not too many of the minor officials of the town.

Most of those present were business men and personal friends. Tickets, we are told, were selling for $5 Tuesday afternoon.

Ike's Hand

A few years ago this column related how Selectman Francis Haggerty didn't wash his hands for a week, after shaking hands with Vice President Nixon, and later we had the story of three Democratic ladies who shook hands with President Kennedy.

Libby Sanborn of Church Street is the latest on the Town Crier list of 'shake hands with the hand that shook the hand, etc.'

Miss Sanborn was a guest at the Republican Dinner for Ike, in Boston Tuesday. Along with Mr and Mrs Albert Kitchener she sat but four tables from Ike during the dinner.

Libby reports that Ike looked wonderful, and further that she was among those who had the pleasure of shaking hands with the ex-president.

Now to find out if Libby has been washing her hands!

OCTOBER IS BUSY MONTH

FOR WOMEN'S CLUB

October is a busy month for the ladies of the Wilmington Women's Club.

The club meets today at 1 pm in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church, for a discussion on "The story of Irish Bealeek China".

Next Tuesday at 10:30 am Mrs John Hayward, Eighth District Director, is to hold a conference at the Stoneham Town Hall, which is to be of interest to all members and guests.

There is to be a panel discussion and questions are to be asked, of the Mass. State Federation Vice Presidents, Mesdames Frederick J Woods, first vice president, Americo Chaves, 2nd vice president, and Clarence F Clarke, 3rd vice president.

Mrs Carrell Morris, Chairman of Legislation for the MSFWC is to speak and present a film "Women Get the Vote" narrated by Walter Cronkite. Luncheon is to be served at 12:15.

The afternoon sessions, starting at 1:30, will have music by the Wakefield Junior High Choraleers, and Mrs Thomas L Porter, president of the Mass. State Federation of Women's Clubs is to be the Guest of Honor. She is to speak on her theme "Horizons Unlimited".

October 24th is another day for the calendar of the ladies in the club.

Mrs Harold Shea, Chairman of the Literature Committee has announced that the Annual Book Review and Sale will be held on that day (next Wednesday). The meeting place is to be at the home of Mrs. Clara Chipman, Wilmington Librarian, on Andover Street.

Coffee is to be served at 9:30am and tickets may be purchased at the book review. The proceeds from both the book review and sale are to go to the Wilmington Public Library.

Oct. 29th is to be the date of the Mass. State Federation Fall Conference, at the Worcester Women's Club in Worcester.

Dr. Claud A. Bosworth is to speak on the subject "Gals are Divided Into Three Parts, and the speaker for the afternoon is Mrs Robert Goddard, the widow of the famous scientist. She is to speak on Rock-etry and its Significance.

Members of the club who have transportation problems are asked to call the President, Mrs Frank H McLean.

BRENDA CORCORAN IS BRIDE

In a Saturday morning wedding in St Dorothy's Church, on September 11th., Miss Brenda Jane Corcoran, daughter of Mr and Mrs John W Corcoran of Aldrich Road, became the bride of Arnold Joseph Lovering, son of Mr and Mrs Arnold F Lovering, of 77 Hampshire Street in Lowell.

The bride's gown was of her own design. Of white silk peau de sole, it was fashioned with a cathedral length train attached to the bodice with a hand handed cummerbund. Seed pearls formed a floral band on the bottom of the bell shaped skirt. She carried a cascade of white phalaenopsis, with English Ivy.

The Rev. Father Joseph W Leahy was the officiating clergyman, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs Carmel Sandock, of 110 Trapelo Road, Waltham, was Matron of Honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Janice Creegan of Lowell, a cousin of the groom, eda Venti of Medford, and Patricia Walsh of Wilmington.

Mrs Sandock's gown was a full length wheat colored brocade, with an obi of peau de sole sash, and she carried a cascade of gold gladiolus.

The bridesmaids were in full length gowns of violet brocade, with bell shaped skirts, fitted bodice, and obi sashes of peau de sole. The carried bouquets of violet colored gladiolus.

Mr Royal Lovering, brother of the groom, of Lowell, was his Best Man, and the ushers were Messrs Jack Chakmanian of Lawrence, Paul Montminy of Lowell and Boston, and William Heenan of Lowell and Lee, N.H.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Rolling Green Motor Inn, in Andover.

Mrs Corcoran chose for her reception line gown, an aqua silk ottoman costume suit, and the mother of the groom was in a gold brocade fitted dress.

For her going away costume the bride chose cranberry red silk shantung, in a dress and jacket she designed and made.

The new Mrs Lovering is a graduate of the Modern School of Fashion & Design, in Boston. Her husband received his Bachelor of Science degree from Lowell Technological Institute, and is now a student at Suffolk University Law School. He is a member of the American Institute of Radio Engineers, the American Student Bar Association, and of the Wig and Robe Society.

After a wedding trip to Canada the couple are now making their home at 74 Mass Avenue, in Arlington.
